THE PEOPLE'S HOLIDAY.

THE FOURTH OF JULY committee has begun right in proposing to introduce something more than cheap attractions for the amusement of the citizens of Tonopah and surrounding country. The members have hit the right note when they endeavor to secure the attendance of a representation of the aviation service which would do more to enlighten this section than all the magazine articles written on the subject. Nevada has been foremost in doing her duty during the war and the committee in timely manner prompts official recognition of that fact by inviting the government to reward those who gave freely of their means to strengthen the treasury and the fighting forces at the disposal of the nation. This idea should be pressed strongly with the object of widening interest and making the patriotic celebration one that will draw from the entire southern country. Tonopah is always ready to extend its hospitality to the guests within its gates and this anniversary is an appropriate time for emphasizing the desire of Tonopah people to offer a program that will have some of the best entertaining and educational features. The aviation program would be better by far than a smelly circus designed chiefly to extract pennies from the pockets of children and to impoverish the city. As a rule these Fourth of July programs have been more redolent of sawdust and snake charmers than any legitimate entertainment. Every element of these road shows is centered in the one thought of getting as much as possible at a trifling expense and the experience of Tonopah has been that the element of graft was too strongly developed for the people to derive any substantial benefit. Narrowed down to cold, concrete facts, the visiting shows that have tortured Tonopah on such occasions have been nothing more than an aggregation of rancorous barkers and dismal ballyhoos. The man of family finds the pressure of high living exacting enough without having to submit to the greedy nomads of the show world whose solitary thought has been to get the last nickel out of the pockets of the children of hard working parents. The amount derived from these shows by the committee in charge has been found singularly small considering the vast sums which go into their gate receipts so it is possible to do away with them altogether and devise some strong attractions that will give the guests of Tonopah two days of unadulterated enjoyment without bankrupting the family savings.

LONG AND SHORT HAUL.

THE TARIFF ISSUE for which Nevada has contended these many years has been revived in the present session of congress by the introduction of a bill known as Senate bill No. 360, which takes up the long and short haul freight issues raised in the last session of congress on which there was a favorable report. Senators Poindexter of Washington, Henderson of Nevada, Shafroth of Colorado and Congressman Hayden of Arizona introduced long and short haul bills during the last session of congress and as a result of the work done by the Intermediate Rate Association at Washington during the last year, Senator Poindexter was able to secure a favorable report on his long and short haul bill, S. B. 313, from the senate committee during the closing hours of the last session of congress. Of course in the fact of so many other bills awaiting consideration it failed of passage. Senator Poindexter assures the railroad commission of Nevada that he will arrange to have the senate committee on interstate commerce promptly repeat its favorable report thereon, after which, he will lead the way for an open discussion. The first hearing began yesterday with a strong showing from the communities interested. Those who are affected by the outrageous discrimination against the short haul should take steps to have their side submitted either in shape of resolution or through attorneys.

The Germans say the Versailles treaty is a song of hate. Well, they didn't expect the concert of nations to lead off with a love ditty, did they?

"Can the senate be bought?" cries the New York World, in discussing the Michigan senatorial case. What worries the World is that the new senate can neither be bought nor bullied.

The Atlanta Georgian says: "The Democratic party will fail if it ceases to be radical." Worse than that. It has failed before it ceased to be radical. That is radical in some things. It has never been exactly what you might call radical about letting the people rule in Georgia, for instance.

Mr. Taft says that he is surprised by the friendly message President Wilson sent the women pacifists in session at Berne, after they had denounced the peace treaty in their resolutions. What is there surprising about that, coming from the statesman who "kept us out of war" in 1916? The only surprising thing is that anybody says he is surprised.

"I can see the league of nations with the flag of Christ unfurled," sings one of the poets in a church paper. People with less vision and more eyesight can see the flag of Japan floating over Shantung, and the American people, under the Versailles covenant, pledged to coerce China into letting it stay there as long as Japan wants to keep it up.

The Democratic spell-binders are to take the stump in June and July, under Homer Cummings, Democratic national chairman. They will bray long and loud in favor of the league of nations, denying at every opportunity, however, that they are making it a partisan issue. It will serve vividly to recall that presidential hoax, "politics is adjourned."

KEEPING TAB ON THE DOINGS OF DEAR HUBBY

(By Associated Press)

TAMPA, Fla., June 12.—Five hundred Tampa women have formed the Woman's Protective League and say they propose to clean up organized vice by direct action—that they propose to undermine its support.

By the establishment of a sort of moral credit bureau this organization proposes to furnish any woman a confidential report on the "double life" of her husband if she wants one. The inquirer does not even need to give her own name in making the inquiry; she may designate a post office box address or any place where an agent of the league may deposit the report on its investigation.

Organizers of the bureau say that seventy of their number have pledged to do the investigating work in the open while the remainder will work in secret.

"So many have such old reproaches for husbands," said one of the chiefs, "they can't work openly because their husbands won't let them. Therefore they will work secretly." The theory of the league is that if a man has not been walking the straight and narrow path one of the five hundred will know about it—or at least can find out.

AMUSEMENTS

MADGE KENNEDY IN BRIGHT COMEDY DRAMA

A chuckle every second and a laugh every minute is the guarantee speed record of "Leave It To Susan." Madge Kennedy's new Goldwyn picture that will be the attraction at the Butler today. The piquant comedienne is seen wandering over the Mojave desert, having been left behind when her train resumed its journey. She trudges through sand and sage-brush until long after nightfall and at last finds refuge in a lonely shack. She is joined by a young man whom she vaguely remembers having seen on the train, and his promise of protection does a great deal to reassure Susan. Soon, however, a quartet of hold-up men appear. Susan recognizes them as the fellows who robbed the train. At once her protector changes his tactics and becomes one of them apparently. In reality he knows who Susan is and pretends he is holding her for ransom. He agrees to share it with the bandits if they will permit him to send a message to her father. This is done, the message at the same time telling the true situation. How he happens to be known to the capitalist and what happens when the rescuing party descends upon Susan and saves her—all this comes out in the subsequent action. The greatest surprise in Susan's life is when she learns who her "kidnapper" really happens to be.

Added to the feature, the latest "Pathe News."

Tomorrow the special D. W. Griffith production, "The Romance of Happy Valley."

Probably nothing hurts a man's vanity more than the discovery that someone has worked a bad nickel on him.
